Jak and his mother were seen in clinic on the 10th June 2013 at APTCOO.

Jak currently attends Wynndale School where he receives some 1:1 support in numeracy and literacy. Jak has the use of a sloping writing block and of a laptop whilst in the school and has had the support of a reader, and a scribe during his recent SATS exams. Jak is described as below his peers in attainment at school. Mum is unsure of the support that will be available to Jak when he transfers to Samworth Academy in September 2013. In clinic today, mum was unclear of the extended transition programme, to support Jak on transfer to Samworth Academy. Mum was encouraged to discuss this further with school.

Please would you be so kind as to see Jak for extraction of his LL E.

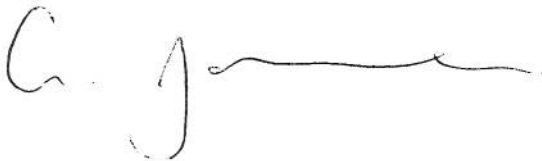

I originally referred Jak to his GDP but his GDP requested a referral to community as Jak is autistic, dyslexic and needle phobic. I would like LL E extracted to encourage the eruption of LL 5.

Re: Jak Kirkland 04 Oct 2001
Address: 7 Eakring Close, Mansfield Nottinghamshire NG18 3FE

Diagnosis: Autistic spectrum disorder
Hypermobility
Tics

I saw Jak with his mother and his grandmother at my clinic at Mansfield Community Hospital on 5th February.

Jak's main problems are due to his hypermobility. He is under the spinal surgeons and the physiotherapist and orthotics. He is also having difficulties with his hands. His handwriting is very poor and has a laptop for writing. He also has dyslexia.

Jak's Tourette's syndrome is under reasonable control. He still has movements. He does not require any medication for Tourette's now.

Jak has made progress with his social skills. He is now able to play alongside other children.

Jak's mother told me that he sneezes 50 times in the morning. He does this every day. His mother has been concerned about this because she was diagnosed to have deviated nasal septum. I would be grateful if you could refer Jak to the ENT.
